ITINERARY

Bormio

Bormio, in addition to being a tourist attraction for winter skiing activities, has always been a place recognized for its beneficial thermal waters!

The waters flow from nine springs of different altitudes: between 1280 and 1421 a.s.l., they are among the few naturally warm, they come out south of the Alps at a temperature between 37 ° and 43 ° and varies according to the seasons. The first evidence of the presence of thermal springs dates back to Roman times.

The main spas of Bormio are: Bagni Vecchi and Bagni Nuovi.

Bagni Vecchi: you will find a suggestive environment as it remains the most characteristic and ancient spa center. A special feature to be absolutely tried is the sweat cave carved into the natural rock.

Bagni Nuovi: it is an elegant spa with Art Nouveau style, offers an outdoor area where, together with the tubs, you can relax in the large garden used as a solarium.
